Executive Summary

GreenLeaf Organics' Week 8 campaigns delivered a blended 3.10x ROAS across €29,500 in total spend, approaching the 3.5x quarterly target. Google Shopping was the standout performer with €35,140 in revenue and a 4.88x ROAS. YouTube Awareness underperformed on direct conversions (0.78x ROAS) but drove measurable lifts in branded search volume (+8% week-over-week), aligning with the brief's awareness objectives.

Top 3 Wins

- ✓ Google Shopping generated €35,140 at 4.88x ROAS with 502 conversions — the strongest revenue driver and 39% above the weekly target of 360 subscriptions.
- ✓ Retargeting - Display delivered 4.93x ROAS and 4.00% CVR at only €3,800 spend, confirming that re-engagement of cart abandoners remains highly profitable.
- ✓ Brand - Search achieved 4.19x ROAS with a 5.30% CTR, reflecting the growing brand equity from Q4 2025 awareness investments. CPA of €13.37 is 55% below the CHF 30 target.

Top 3 Areas to Improve

- Subscription Push - Social CPA of €38.89 exceeds the CHF 30 target by 30%. Creative fatigue likely contributes — the current ad set has been live for 3 weeks without refresh.
- YouTube Awareness CTR of 0.40% and 0.78x ROAS reflect the channel's top-of-funnel nature, but view-through conversions should be tracked to measure full-funnel impact.
- Overall subscription sign-ups (1,537 weekly run rate) are tracking 15% below the 2,250/month target from the client brief. Scaling Shopping and Retargeting could close the gap.

Recommended Actions

1. Shift 15% of Subscription Push - Social budget (€1,260) to Google Shopping and Retargeting, where CPA is 2-3x more efficient.
2. Launch fresh UGC-style creatives on Social (per the brief's creative direction) to combat ad fatigue. Test recipe-style 15s videos with the Fitness Enthusiasts audience.
3. Implement view-through conversion tracking for YouTube to capture the full awareness-to-conversion funnel and build a more accurate attribution model.
